

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am responding to your recent ad as a designer. I feel that my skills and professional background will prove beneficial to this position and enhance the Internet presence of your company.

With over ten years of experience in design & content development, I feel confident that my abilities would prove an asset to your organization. I have collaborated with marketing and product managers and developers to create user-friendly content and target specific audiences to increase website traffic and promote company brands.

I am proficient in the use of Adobe Creative Suite. Especially, I have extensive experience in working with Adobe Photoshop. I have used these tools to successfully create webpages, banners, ads, and advertising materials.

I possess up-to-date knowledge of the latest web trends. I am also a specialist in cross-browser compatibility, determining technical requirements, solving HTML5 / CSS3 code problems.

After moving to Canada in 2013. I worked for seven years in Vancouver BC. I operated within a close and integrated software delivery team.

My goal now is to join a work-oriented team that does their job passionately. To learn from my teammates and sharing my knowledge with them. Adding value to my workplace and its products.

To this end, I very much hope that you will look favorably upon my application, and I eagerly await to hear back from you. Thank you for taking the time to review my application.

Yours sincerely,

Syd (Sabri Gokhan) AYTEKIN
